I remember when you and your brother Keith would come over to my parents home (maiorca). I would come and visit them with my son, Phillip Jr. Who was then two years old. You would come over, knock on our door and ask to "borrow" my son. You both would take him back to your house(right across the street), open the hood of your car or a friend's car) stand him up on the bumper and your friends would point to a part in the engine. He could tell you the name of ANY part they pointed to! He has many fond memories of those times, as you came and got him quite a bit.
May you be in god's care now. Our prayers r with your family.

Little did I know then how one shout out to a pack of shirtless long haired young men on BMX bikes from "The Village Green" in the summer of 1986 at Colonial Park would change my life forever. We lived like Rock Stars and I will always cherish the many great memories. You never failed to make us all laugh. You were one of a kind and I hope you are at peace but I will never understand why you had to leave so soon. Love ya Sick Dude!
