“ My husband were blessed to meet Agnes & Bernie when we were much younger and they welcomed us into their home just to get to know us. It turned out we got to know them as well and totally respected them. They held a special love for each other and every member of their family. Through the years we got to know Michelle & Denice at St. Mary's and they are great people. Even though we did not know Richard or any other family members, we knew this was a special family. Count your blessings and love one another especially at this holiday time for it will be the first time Agnes will not be with you.
