

Amanda Valerie Schroepfer O'Kelly

January 9, 1980 - May 1, 2024

Amanda Valerie Schroepfer O'Kelly, a courageous, devoted mother and beloved daughter, passed away in the presence of family on May 1, 2024 after a two-year battle with cancer. Throughout her 44 years of living a beautiful life, she loved her family and friends fiercely and was loved fiercely in return.

Growing up in her childhood home in Piscataway, New Jersey, Amanda took in the world through thick-rimmed glasses with curiosity and empathy. As the eldest sister, she took good care of her younger siblings, having a natural affinity for providing guidance and support. She made many close friends in childhood and adolescence with her kindness, spirit, and humor.

After graduating from Piscataway High School, Amanda went on to earn her undergraduate degree from Rutgers University, during which time she met her life partner, Tom O'Kelly. She then went on to the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, putting her abundant compassion for others into her career as a child psychiatrist and pediatrician. She was overjoyed upon her acceptance into the triple board program (Adult Psychology, Child Psychology, and Pediatrics) at the Queen's Medical Center in Honolulu, Hawai'i, a life-changing opportunity that she cherished. In June 2007, she left New Jersey for Oahu with a grain of trepidation and a pound of enthusiasm. There, her residency flowered into a vast, loving community of colleagues and friends. She was joined on the island shortly after by Tom, then her sister Adrienne for a time, and later, her brother-in-law Sean. Amanda and Tom married and started a family of their own, raising their children Kieran Kai and Ashling Valerie on Oahu. After living there for 16 years, with a steady stream of family members and friends visiting from the mainland, she returned to New Jersey to be closer to her family.

Amanda found joy in traveling with friends and family and spending as much time outdoors as possible. Her children were the greatest gifts of her life, and she devoted herself to them, fighting to stay with them for as long as she could. She will be remembered for the light she brought into so many people's lives and for her incredible strength of spirit and mind.

Amanda is survived by her children Kieran and Ashling; her husband Tom and the O'Kelly family; her parents and step-parents Judy Taylor and Bill Evans, and George and Debbie Schroepfer; her sisters Christina (husband Chris), Adrienne, and Jilly; her brothers Bryan, Mike (wife Roberta), and Dan; nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, cousins, and many dear friends and loved ones.

“ Amanda was such a bright light - always positive, optimistic, full of hope...a glass half full kind of person. I admired her very much. We met on the playground of the building we both lived in and our children are around the same age. Kieran a year older than my daughter, Ashling two years younger. She was a beautiful, patient, and kind mother. Her love for them was undeniable. They were her heart and I know she did everything in her power to fight to be with them, often masking her own pain to ensure they had normalcy. She would be tired and weak from treatment, but that didn't stop her from chasing Kieran and Ashling around the playground. Didn't stop her from taking them on picnics, to the beach, water park, the list is endless. We had a going away party on one of their last days on Oahu and I look at those pictures one year ago, seeing Amanda's radiant smile, and it reminds me of how truly special she was. We kept in touch after their move and my last conversation with her in April sounded promising. She was undergoing new treatment and it had been successful. I don't understand nor will I ever understand why the bright and beautiful are taken first. I'm beyond devastated that she's gone but know she'll never be forgotten. Amanda will live on in the hearts of the many people that loved and cherished her. Until we meet again, my friend.

My deepest condolences to her family during this difficult time. You were such an amazing support system for her and my heart goes out to you.

“ I first met Amanda in kindergarten. We were closest during middle school, when we wrote notes furiously and even created our own code. We won a township award together for a video we made. Our contact in the decades since high school was just a few Facebook messages to acknowledge that we both went into mental health fields, and she talked about how much she loved helping children. I have so many memories of Amanda in childhood — how smart she was, both with books and with seeing the world. I remember her energy and silliness in 2nd grade, and her seriousness and incisiveness in middle school. I send all her family my deepest condolences.

Rose in the garden

She was the fountain

Filled the air with blessed aroma

She gave us light

She gave us hope and love and we were heartened

You touch the rose and feel kindness

You smell the rose and feel freshness

You hear the rose and join the chorus

Near her you were gorgeous

She was picked early

Our hearts are broken

They are heavy and shaken

The earth is rocking

And the skies are weeping

With her two young roses near

We hear the rose

She is our dear

Her fragrance is in the air

We will sing her prose

And forever cheer
