“ It was so great growing up on Sydney Place, the dead end street which was always so full of life. Ann was always so patient and caring with the mass of kids that would run through her yard everyday. My dog had a ongoing romance with the Rosen's dog (Sheeba), and I remember Ann nicely telling me...."Patrick, you know your dog was on my porch all night again". When I would run into her from time to time she always gave me a big hug and kiss, like I was her family. God Bless her and may she rest in peace with Sandy. My thoughts are with you....Diane, Robbie and Lisa.

Love,
Pat Infante

“ My most heartfelt sympathies to the whole family and everyone who knew Annie. She was such a loving person and she have a place in my heart forever. I remember going over her house with Lisa after school and as soon as you walked in you would smell something baking or cooking. I especially remember the homemade bread, OMG!!! I swear it made her so happy when I ate, she was always trying to make me eat, not that she had to twist my arm, lol. Best baker and cook ever! She was just a loving, kind person. Annie....you are with your mom now and the angels. I will love you forever.

“ Grandma was truly a selfless soul. No matter who showed up at her house, she was always at the ready with a hug, a plate of delicious homemade food, and a great story. She loved with her whole heart, and we all felt that. I'll never forget the day in Disney World when I had the opportunity to hold her hand and walk by her side. I had only known her for a year at that point, and she made me feel like I had always been one of her grandchildren, holding a special place in her beautiful heart. That was the kind of person Ann Rosen was. And I will miss her dearly.
