“ My Uncle Sal and his wife, Lorelei were there when I needed them. I decided to go back to work after I had my first child, but only three days a week, and I did not want to leave my daughter with daycare. They stepped up and gave me peace and watched her for the three days I went to work, and what doesn't surprise me is my aunt's health improved because she knew and me was needed for something special. She and Uncle Sal took great care of her and I am eternally grateful for that. Uncle rest in peace may you have joy with your family on the other side now.
